

By integrating energy-efficient processes, responsible resource management, and sustainable production methods – including systematic monitoring of emissions and resource efficiency – the company is actively contributing to the global transition toward greener industrial practices. During the reporting period, approximately 58% of the plant’s electricity requirement was met through renewable energy sources, supporting Mukand Limited’s strategy to progressively increase clean energy adoption and reduce lifecycle emissions.

Link to Source